

Name: Ultimate Spidermonkey

One-line Introduction: Ultimate Spidermonkey is the Ultimatrix's artificially evolved DNA sample of an Arachnachimp.

Appearance: Ultimate Spidermonkey has a large gorilla-like body with purple skin, black fur, and three pairs of eyes. He lacks Spidermonkey's tail and extra pair of arms, but they are replaced with two pairs of retractable spider legs that can fold into his waist. Ultimate Spidermonkey wears the evolved Ultimatrix symbol on his chest. Negative Ultimate Spidermonkey, used by Albedo, has red eyes, pale-purple skin, and yellow spider fangs on each side of his mouth. Instead of spider legs, Negative Ultimate Spidermonkey has two extra sets of gorilla arms, and the evolved Ultimatrix symbol on his stomach has eight spikes instead of four.

In **The Mother of All Vreedles**, he failed to defeat the Vreedle Brothers, Ma Vreedle, and Pretty Boy Vreedle in space due to the lack of oxygen and fell back to Earth. Weaknesses: Ultimate Spidermonkey's webs can be torn apart by species as strong as Anodites or dissolved by the nuclear energy from members of Atomix's species. He can also be put to sleep by Argit's quills.

Powers and Abilities: Ultimate Spidermonkey has the ability to shoot webs from his mouth, much more than Spidermonkey can shoot from his tail. His webs are strong enough to keep a Vaxasaurian, an Orishan, and a Gimlinopithecus from escaping. His webbing is also waterproof. He can use his webbing to create web constructs, such as a web net, and create a soft cushion to land on if falling. Ultimate Spidermonkey is much stronger than his devolved form, being strong enough to overpower and take down a Tetramand. He is extremely durable, being able to survive Atomix's Nuclear Winner and take a punch from a Tetramand. He is resistant to radiation and extreme heat, as he was completely unharmed after falling through the atmosphere. Ultimate Spidermonkey is extremely agile, and he can jump extremely high. He is capable of climbing walls and has prehensile feet. In Ultimate Alien, Ultimate Spidermonkey's spider legs could pull things and break them and were sharp enough to pierce a concrete wall.
