

Name: Ghostfreak

One-line Introduction: Ghostfreak is the Omnitrix's DNA sample of an Ectonurite from the planet Anur Phaetos in the Anur System.

Appearance: Ghostfreak is a phantom/ghost-like alien with a gaseous appearance and claw-like hands. He has grey skin with black lines running all over him, which is removable, revealing black and white striped tentacles underneath. In the Original Series, the Omnitrix symbol peeked out of his skin on his lower left chest, and he had a pink eye with a black pupil. In Alien Force, Ghostfreak resembled Zs'Skayr, with a green eye and the original Omnitrix symbol on his chest. In Ultimate Alien, he looked like the Ectonurite designs from Ghost Town, wearing the Ultimatrix symbol on his chest. In Omniverse, Ghostfreak has green chains all over his front side, spikes on his elbows, greenish-white skin, two cuffs on each arm, and the Omnitrix symbol at the center of his chains. When possessing someone, he has a green glow. His tentacles are now black and purple-striped, and his eye is colored green. Bad Ben's Ghostfreak is similar to Ben Prime's Ghostfreak in Omniverse, but with mint green parts and blue-green chains.

History: Ghostfreak first appeared in "Permanent Retirement," and in subsequent episodes of the original series, he frightened Gwen, escaped Vera's house, drove a golf cart, and battled various villains. At some point prior to "Ghostfreaked Out," Zs'Skayr secretly took control and contacted Dr. Viktor. In "Ghostfreaked Out," Zs'Skayr took over Ghostfreak and battled the Circus Freaks until he reverted, removing Ghostfreak from the active playlist and allowing Zs'Skayr to escape the Omnitrix. Ben regained Ghostfreak (in his true form) in "Be Afraid of the Dark" by unknowingly scanning Zs'Skayr, but did not transform into him again in the series out of fear. Prior to Alien Force, Ghostfreak was removed from the Omnitrix. In "Ghost Town," Ben scanned Zs'Skayr again, transformed into Ghostfreak, but reverted with Vilgax's help when Zs'Skayr regained control. In "The Ultimate Sacrifice" from Ultimate Alien, Ghostfreak escaped Sentient Ultimate Spidermonkey's webbing and failed to possess Sentient Ultimate Humungousaur before being frozen by Sentient Ultimate Big Chill. In "Mystery, Incorporeal" from Omniverse, Ghostfreak saved Professor Xagliv from Michael Morningstar, possessed the latter, and made him stop the spell. From then on, Ben overcame his apprehension of using Ghostfreak. He appeared in several other episodes, battling Psyphon, searching for Charmcaster, possessing Ma Vreedle, and defeating Vilgax's Mechadroids. In "A New Dawn," Ghostfreak battled a zombie. In Bad Ben's Timeline, Bad Ghostfreak chased after No Watch Ben in "And Then There Were None."

Weaknesses: If Ghostfreak's protoplasm is solidified, he will be unable to turn intangible or invisible. His intangibility requires conscious thought to activate, leaving him vulnerable if caught off-guard. He is vulnerable to electricity and can be controlled by Vladats via their Corrupturas. Ghostfreak can be tracked by opponents who can sense heat or use thermographic vision. He cannot possess zombies, Omnitrix transformations, Sentient Ultimate forms, or Dagon. Even if Ghostfreak does possess someone, it may be possible for them to reject him. Like the rest of his kind, Ghostfreak cannot survive on Anur Vladias. Ghostfreak can be scared by Toepick's species and affected by a Nemuina's sleeping dust.

Powers and Abilities: Ghostfreak can make himself intangible and invisible, disrupting electronics by phasing through them. He can selectively make parts of himself corporeal. He can make others intangible and transparent through physical contact. Ghostfreak is able to possess the bodies of his enemies and control their movements, even erasing their consciousness. He can possess various species, including Florauna, Vladats, Transylians, Necrofriggians, and others. He can expose prehensile tentacles from his chest for grabbing, stabbing, and increasing his scare factor. Ghostfreak is capable of telekinesis and telepathy. He can regenerate lost skin, fly, levitate, and has sharp claws. He possesses enhanced strength, durability, and reflexes. Ghostfreak can survive in the vacuum of space and is immune to having his manna absorbed. He can see in the dark and has 360-degree vision. Ghostfreak is able to store small objects under his skin flaps. He can alter his shape into a smoke-like form, making him immune to being absorbed by Gutrot's species. In his true form, Ghostfreak can project powerful energy beams and has enhanced telekinesis. In total darkness, his powers are greatly enhanced. He can also rotate his skull.

Personality: During the Original Series, Ghostfreak would often act radically due to secretly hosting the consciousness of Zs'Skayr, often going out of his way to scare and intimidate. Ben felt increasingly uncomfortable whenever he transformed back. Eventually, Zs'Skayr's consciousness was able to completely overtake Ben's. In Alien Force, it was easy for Zs'Skayr to take over Ben's personality again. By Ultimate Alien, Ghostfreak existed as a separate individual independent from Zs'Skayr's. As of Omniverse, Ghostfreak's connection to Zs'Skayr is no longer an issue, making him safe to use.
