

Name: Jetray

One-line Introduction: Jetray is the Omnitrix's DNA sample of an Aerophibian from the planet Aeropela.

Appearance: Jetray is a red, humanoid manta ray-like alien with green eyes, black outlines on his face, yellow horns extending from his nose, gills underneath his arms, yellow patagia which he uses to fly and glide through water, and two black lightning bolt-like stripes coming down from his shoulders to the original Omnitrix/Ultimatrix symbol on his chest. In Video Games, Jetray wore a blue motion capture suit. In Heroes United, the black stripes on Jetray's body are straight rather than lightning-bolted.

History: Jetray first appeared in Everybody Talks About the Weather. In Alien Force, he defeated Alan, battled DNAliens, Darkstar, Negative Echo Echo, and Vilgax, and saved Lu. He also hyperspace-traveled to Augstaka and flew with Gwen to stop the Forever Knights. In Ultimate Alien, he battled Air Force planes, saved a family from the Stalker, fought P'Andor, defeated Ra'ad, and destroyed the Hand of Armageddon. In the Ultimate Alien Future Timeline, Ultimate Ben used a combination of Jetray's flight and strength to stop the Rustbucket 3 from crash-landing. In the comics, Jetray chased the Pack alongside Rex, avoided shots created by Laser Lance, and flew from the explosion caused by the DNAliens' bomb.

Weaknesses: Jetray's neuroshock blasts are useless against mechanical-like species like Talpaedans and robots like Computron's minions. His neuroshock blasts can hurt himself if deflected. He can become drowsy if hit by quills of a member of Argit's species. Jetray cannot fly in Legerdomain due to its sky being unparalleled to Earth's.

Powers and Abilities: Jetray can fire green neuroshock blasts from his eyes and tail, capable of shutting down an organic being's nervous system. He is Ben's fastest flier, capable of flying at speeds several times the speed of sound and entering hyperspace. Jetray has enhanced strength, durability, reflexes, and is immune to radiation, fire, heat, and electricity. He can breathe and swim fast underwater and can safely fly through the Earth's atmosphere and into space. Jetray's tail and feet are prehensile.

Personality: Jetray states that "Flying's no fun if everybody can do it."
