

Name: Diamondhead

One-line Introduction: Diamondhead is the Omnitrix's DNA sample of a Petrosapien from the planet Petropia.

Appearance: Diamondhead's body is composed entirely of aquamarine crystals, which are described as a tough and durable diamond-like substance. He has four crystal shards on his back and a sharp head. In the Original Series, Diamondhead had yellow eyes and wore a sleeveless uniform that was black on the right half and white on the left, with a black patch on the left shoulder where the Omnitrix symbol was located. In Alien Force and Ultimate Alien, Diamondhead's lower body, torso, and the top of his head were similar to Chromastone's, consisting of an indigo rock with black lines and dots. He had six crystal shards on his back and two on his chest, green eyes, and wore the Omnitrix/Ultimatrix symbol on his chest. In Omniverse, Diamondhead has sleeveless clothing that is all black with one large green stripe down the middle up to his belt, and wears black pants. He has a green belt with white stripes on which he wears the Omnitrix symbol. Diamondhead no longer bears the crystals on his chest, and the crystals on his back have also grown in length. His jaw is larger, he wears black shoes that are green on the bottom, and there are now only two crystal shards on his back. His arms and shoulders also seem to have much more girth.

History: Diamondhead first appeared in **And Then There Were 10**, where he defeated Vilgax's large Mecha-droid. In **Hunted**, Diamondhead trained to master his powers and was rescued by Tetrax after being defeated by Kraab and SixSix. In **Secrets**, he battled Vilgax on Mt. Rushmore. Diamondhead appeared in several other episodes of the original series, including **The Big Tick**, **Framed**, **Grudge Match**, **Back With a Vengeance**, **Midnight Madness**, **Ben 10,000**, **A Change of Face**, **Under Wraps**, **The Unnaturals**, **The Visitor**, **Ben 10: Secret of the Omnitrix**, **Perfect Day**, **Big Fat Alien Wedding**, **Ben 10 vs. Negative 10: Part 1**, **Ben 10: Destroy All Aliens**, and **Handle With Care**. Five Years Prior to Omniverse, Diamondhead appeared in **Trouble Helix**, **Arrested Development**, **Evil's Encore**, and **The Ballad of Mr. Baumann**. Diamondhead was locked by the Omnitrix's reconfiguration in **Ben 10 Returns: Part 1**. In **Vengeance of Vilgax: Part 2**, Diamondhead defeated Vilgax. Weaknesses: Diamondhead is especially weak to sonic vibrations, which can render him unconscious. If Diamondhead's body becomes completely disassembled, he is unable to regenerate himself. The two shards on Diamondhead's back can leave him stuck on a wall or on other surfaces that he gets knocked into. Diamondhead can be trapped in crystal, and he can be affected by the cold virus.

Powers and Abilities: Diamondhead possesses crystallokinesis, allowing him to manipulate the crystals that his species are composed of, summoning crystal formations from the ground and controlling their growth. He can entrap enemies in crystals and generate crystals within objects. His crystals can block sonic attacks. He can manipulate his physiology to form structures on his body, such as spikes or crystalline weapons like blades and bludgeons, and can extend and alter the size of his limbs. Diamondhead can regenerate broken pieces of his body and fire crystal shards, which can be made explosive. He can create spike clusters, shields, ramps, moving platforms, and even a giant hand. He can also create independent crystal objects like anchors, shields, and swords. Diamondhead's crystalline body can deflect energy beams, including those from an orbital plasma cannon, and can absorb energy, with enhanced absorption abilities when bonded with Crystalsapien DNA. He exhibits enhanced strength and durability, capable of withstanding blows from powerful opponents and surviving explosions. Diamondhead can dig through solid surfaces, survive underwater and in space, and is immune to acid, time rays, and Xenocite possession. He is resistant to fire and heat and has refractive vision. He can also sneeze out tiny sharp crystals from his mouth, and Gwen Prime can create Crystal Manna Constructs.
