

Name: Sentient Ultimate Humungousaur

One-line Introduction: A sentient being trapped inside the Ultimatrix as Ultimate Humungousaur who was later freed by Azmuth and Ben.

Appearance: The sentient Ultimate Humungousaur looked just like Negative Ultimate Humungousaur, except he lacked the evolved Ultimatrix symbol on his chest.

History: In "The Ultimate Sacrifice", the sentient Ultimate Humungousaur, along with the other Ultimates (except Ultimate Wildmutt and Ultimate Way Big), convinced Ben to sacrifice himself so they could be free from the Ultimatrix. Ben tried to, but the Ultimatrix spared his life and freed the Ultimates for his heroic actions. Azmuth took them to his lab where they could live freely after the Sentient Ultimates reconciled with their former "jailer". Sometime before "The More Things Change: Part 1", the sentient Ultimate Humungousaur was hunted and killed by Khyber, who added his helmet to his trophy collection on his ship.

Weaknesses: The sentient Ultimate Humungousaur lacked the Vaxasaurian's ability to change his size. His size made moving through areas designed for smaller species difficult. Like Vaxasaurians, the sentient Ultimate Humungousaur was vulnerable to electricity, such as that generated by a Conductoid.

Powers and Abilities: The sentient Ultimate Humungousaur could transform his hands into bio-gatling guns that shot missiles and bullets. He was exponentially stronger than a regular Vaxasaurian, even at their full size, and was strong enough to lift and throw a To'kustar in record time and rupture the ground with an earthquake by just punching it. The sentient Ultimate Humungousaur's tail was powerful enough to knock away opponents and had a mace on it for extra damage. He had impeccable durability, thanks to his hard-armored body and muscular bulk, and had both great speed and great reflexes.

Personality: The sentient Ultimate Humungousaur was extremely merciless and ruthless, as observed when he repeatedly punched the red robot even when he gave up. During a therapy session with Dr. Borges, it is revealed that his mother tried to eat him before he hatched, which might be the cause of his unbridled rage and aggression. Despite his rage, the sentient Ultimate Humungousaur is shown to admit to his mistakes, as he did with Ben, after the latter sacrificed himself to release him and the other Ultimates from the Ultimatrix.