

Name: Blitzwolfer

One-line Introduction: Blitzwolfer is the Omnitrix's DNA sample of a Loboan from Luna Lobo in the Anur System.

Appearance: Blitzwolfer's appearance is based on a werewolf. In the Original Series, he had grey fur, three furry tendrils, and a large bushy tail with three sharp claws on each hand and foot, and the inside of his mouth was green. He has spiked elbows and shoulders and wore a white jumpsuit with black stripes and the original Omnitrix symbol on his lower stomach. During the events of Benwolf, Ben was slowly transforming into Blitzwolfer, going through multiple stages. In the Ultimate Alien intro, Blitzwolfer looked the same as before except his tendrils and tail were recolored black, he had lighter skin, and his mouth was colored white on the outside and red on the inside. He retained the same black and white jumpsuit from the Original Series and wore the Ultimatrix symbol on his chest. In Omniverse, 16-year-old Blitzwolfer has a green suit, collar, and green wristbands. He is more muscular than his original appearance. He now has four claws instead of three, a long flowing mane instead of furry tendrils, as well as a green tongue and a white belt. His Omnitrix symbol is located on the collar above his fur. 11-year-old Blitzwolfer in Omniverse looks almost the same as his 16-year-old self, except his suit and collar are white with black stripes and his wristbands are black.

History: Blitzwolfer first appeared in Benwolf, where he was added to the active playlist after the Omnitrix "sampled" the Werewolf's DNA. However, Ben slowly transformed because the Werewolf's scratch left the Omnitrix stuck between Active and Capture Modes. Blitzwolfer pursued the Werewolf and eventually reverted after he saved Max and Wes from a lava flow. In Alien Force, Blitzwolfer was locked by the Omnitrix's reconfiguration in Ben 10 Returns: Part 1. In Ultimate Alien, Blitzwolfer was re-unlocked by Ben 10,000 in Ben 10,000 Returns. In Omniverse, Blitzwolfer battled the Red Knight and saved Kai from falling off of Big Ben in An American Benwolf in London. In Catfight, Blitzwolfer chased after Nyancy Chan. In The Secret of Dos Santos, Blitzwolfer defeated a Jungle Guardian. In A New Dawn, Blitzwolfer appeared for a short time when Ben was cycling through his aliens. In the comics, Blitzwolfer attacked Gwen while sleepwalking in Pleasant Dreams, defeated Dirk and his vampire animatronic in Special Defects, and tried to defeat the Shadow Monster in What Lies Ben-eath.

Weaknesses: Blitzwolfer cannot use his sonic howl if his muzzle is forced shut. Similar to most Earth canines, Blitzwolfer has sensitive hearing and cannot handle loud noises. Blitzwolfer can be controlled and hypnotized by Vladats via their Corrupturas. Blitzwolfer can be scared by Toepick's species.

Powers and Abilities: Blitzwolfer can amplify his howling to create powerful, green, concussive blasts of sound by opening his quadra-lobed muzzle into four separate parts. These sonic howls are powerful enough to damage Petrosapiens and can also harm other Loboans. They can be used to reflect incoming projectiles or propel Blitzwolfer upward. Blitzwolfer has sharp fangs and claws, extraordinary night vision, enhanced strength, enhanced durability, enhanced jumping, enhanced speed and reflexes, enhanced senses of smelling and hearing, immunity to Corrodiuum, immunity to lava, the ability to scale walls, and prehensile feet.

Personality: Not mentioned.
