

Name: Juryrigg

One-line Introduction: Juryrigg is the Omnitrix's DNA sample of a Planchaküle from the planet Aul-Turhen.

Appearance: Juryrigg is a small, Gremlin-like alien with four-fingered hands, three-toed feet, and a devil-like tail. He is small in stature, about as big as a human head. In *Ultimate Alien*, Juryrigg had reddish-orange skin and wore the Ultimatrix symbol on his chest. In *Omniverse*, Juryrigg's skin is much smoother and recolored crimson-red. He now wears an aviator's outfit which comes with an ascot. His eyes now have black pupils, his ears are now spiked, his sharp teeth jut out of his mouth, and his nose is bigger. He also has a spike on his chin and one near each of his eyes. The Omnitrix symbol is now on his waist.

History: Juryrigg first appeared in *The Eggman Cometh*, where he began taking apart the brakes in Kevin's car. Later, Juryrigg dismantled Dr. Animo's mutant ray, but soon had to repair and modify it in order to stop the pterodactyl from wreaking havoc on Bellwood. In *The Ultimate Enemy: Part 1*, Juryrigg prepared to battle Vilgax and Psyon before Dagon freed himself. He briefly appeared in *The Ultimate Enemy: Part 2* before reverting. In *Omniverse*, Juryrigg briefly appeared in *Have I Got a Deal for You* before switching into Grey Matter as part of an accidental transformation chain. In *Gone Fishin'*, Juryrigg defeated the Mechaners. In *Rules of Engagement*, Juryrigg fixed up parts of the Proto-TRUK and created the Tenn-Speed. In *Food Around the Corner*, Juryrigg tore through a door and fixed the security system. In *Return to Forever*, Juryrigg disabled the Highbreed Pulse Generator and reprogrammed the machine to turn Will Harangue into an alien. In *Mystery, Incorporeal*, Juryrigg was defeated by a Rock Monster. In *It's a Mad, Mad, Mad Ben World: Part 1*, Juryrigg was defeated by Mad Diamondhead. In *A New Dawn*, Juryrigg appeared briefly when Ben was cycling through his aliens.

Weaknesses: Juryrigg has a near uncontrollable habit of breaking and assembling machinery. His small size makes him unsuitable for hand-to-hand combat against larger opponents.

Powers and Abilities: Juryrigg has the ability to completely disassemble any kind of machinery in mere seconds and can construct complex machinery from scratch at a similar rate. Juryrigg can also modify machines after disassembling them and is able to repair technology. He can dismantle and rebuild living mechanical species such as Chronosapiens. Juryrigg has enhanced strength for his size, being able to break some metal bars that even an Appoplexian could not break. Juryrigg has a degree of enhanced durability, as he was able to withstand being thrown against a destroyed food truck by a Rock Monster. Juryrigg's tail is prehensile. Juryrigg also boasts an impressive intellect.

Personality: Juryrigg has a strong desire to break and remake machines, making him difficult to control. He has a mischievous (and twisted) sense of humor, as seen when he turned Will Harangue into an alien as punishment for his actions against Ben and other aliens. Juryrigg has several catchphrases, such as "Juryrigg disassemble!", "FIX FIX FIX FIX FIX!", and "Reassemble, disassemble!"
